MEETING OF BOARD OF TRADE

Matters of General Interest Considered. Farewell Party at the Home of Mr. and Mrs. Robinson-Death of Mrs. Deborah Milliard.

The West Side board of trade held a regular monthly meeting last evening in St. David's hall. The most important matter discussed was the propsed new hospital. John R. Farr spoke at length about it. A. M. Morse, in reporting on the project to pave Jackson, Robinson and Ninth streets, stated that the total feet frontage secured for paving was 266 feet. In a few days they will add to

Regarding a tapestry factory for the West Side, T. H. Dale stated that the committee on manufactories met some time ago and appointed a sub-committee consisting of Charles Daniels, T. H. Dale, William R. Williams and D. M. Jones to consider the matter, Mr. McGee, who is at the head of the factory, stated, while looking over the ground, that Hyde Park was the best locality. The capital required for the factory is $150,000. Mr. Dale did not think that the money could all be raised on the West Side, but it could be procured in the city. A long discussion on the viaduct took place. The plans of the land were consulted and the action of the mayor in vetoing the ordinance discussed. The following resolution presented by a committee consisting of John R. Farr, W. Haydn Evans and T. Fellows Mason, was read and adopted: Resolved That the West Side board of trade request the councilmen of this the various parts well taken. side to prevent the transfer for any other purpose of the $10,000, or part fiscal year for the construction of the viaduct on West Lackawanna avenue. Resolved, That the secretary notify the councilmen of the action taken by the board. The chairman requested a report on the new hospital for the West Side and John R. Farr sald that at a recent meeting of the State Board of Charities they recommended to the legislature the appropriation of $30,000 for a hospital in Hyde Park. If the legislature should pass the bill, that sum will be for the building only. He will inquire at the next session and see if $5,000 can be appropriated for matrons. Mr. Farr also stated that a hospital organization should be incorporated before the sum is appropriated. William Farrel suggested that the board recommend West mountain stone for the foundation walls of the new No. 19 school. This was received and the meeting adjourned.

A Forewell Party.

A surprise and farewell party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Redman, at Decker's court and Main avenue, Monday evening, previous to Mrs. Redman's departure for a visit, in Wales. The guests were all connected with the Tabernacle Congregational church. The evening was a very enjoyable one, and was spent in games and music. During the evening, Mrs. B. L. Evans presented Mrs. Redman with a handsome dlamond breastpin, the token of esteem in which her many friends held her. Refreshments were served at a late hour. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Floyd, Mr. and Mrs. John Elias, Mr. and Mrs. B. I. Evans, Rev. and Mrs. D. P. Jones, Mr and Mrs. Hugh Williams, Mrs. Bevan, Mrs. Leonard, Mrs. Petchford, Mrs. Thomas J. Thomas, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. J. B. Compliments the Tribune on Its Report of His Lecture.

WHAT HE SAYS ABOUT CHARITY

In Favor of Saving the Deserving Pool from Going Into Almshouses-Committees of the Associated Charities for the Year.

The Board of Associated Charities held a meeting last night, which was very interesting. The treasurer's report shows a balance in the treasury at present of $329.46. Thomas J. Moore's resignation was read, but further consideration of it was postponed for the present, expecting that Mr. Moore may e persuaded to reconsider his determination. The memoers felt that his usefulness as a member of the board could not be spared.

Dr. J. W. Walk, of Philadelphia, who lectured in the Young Men's Christian Association hall, under the auspices of the Board of Charities, sent the following letter to Rev. Rogers Israel, the secretary, which was called forth by the misrepresentation his lecture received in the columns of the Scranton

I wish to compliment the Scranton Tribune for the very excellent report of my address, and I must say that the report of the Times was very misleading. The Times said that I advocated the abolition of outdoor relief, compelling all the guest of Fred Reynolds, on North objects of charity to live in almsho That charity in such a case wore a wintry aspect. If such was my opinion, it would indeed present a wintry aspect, but I have been misunderstood. I am not in favor of forcing the worthy poor into almshouses. Indeed, for years, it has been my effort o prevent the necessity of their going

I believe in assisting them at their own homes by such kindly methods as may preserve their self-respect, but I think such assistance can be better given by benevolent societies than by county or township officials who very often own their appointment to the favor of political leaders, and seldom feel any deep mibeing often and favorably mentioned terest in the unfortunates under their for the office of common council in the care. In our own state there have been many scandals connected with the expenditure of city and county poor funds; al-most none in the administration of benevolent societies.

> Foundation of His Opinion. My opinion is not the result of prejudice, but of long and close observation; for I am myself a city official. The reporter's misunderstanding of my position was probably due to my using the phrase, "out loor relief" in its restricted, legal meaning of relief given from money raised by taxation.

I did advocate the discontinuance of this kind of relief, but only with a view of substituting for it relief given by benevo-lent associations, whose work is more sympathetic and more economical than that of political officials, no matter to what party they belong.

I say emphatically that I am in favor of saving the deserving poor from the neressity of going into almshouses as long as possible When the letter was read Mr. Cohen explained that he had sent Dr. Walk's views of the report given his lecture by the Times to the editor of that sheet a national entertainment last and the matter was satisfactorily corrected in an editorial utterance yesterday morning. Miss Lizzie Y. Beame, of 521 Delaware

Mrs. Duggan made the following report: Number of visits made 20 worthy, 20; unworthy, 10; revisited, 6; transportation furnished to 4 persons, lodging to 3; children sent to Foundling home, 2: persons sent to Lackawanna hospital, 2; found permanent positions for 3, found work for 4; one child taken in charge from vicious parents; donations received from sisters of St. Cecilia's academy.

A tower wagon, with a rigging almost as high as the poles is used to put the trolley wire in place and Mr. Sweeney was working on top of it.
